¹ HMRC has confirmed that UK registered non-financial charities will be exempt from reporting the tax residency of their trustees.

² Tax residency rules for organisations vary from country to country, and can be quite complicated. For instance companies will often be taxed in the country where they are incorporated and may also be resident in any other countries in which they conduct business, while trusts may need to consider where their trustees are resident. If there is doubt about where an organisation is tax resident, professional advice may be required.

Section 8: Information about tax residency

The UK government has, and will be signing, a number of inter-governmental agreements to share tax information, where applicable, with the tax authorities in other jurisdictions. The requirement to collect certain information about each customer's tax arrangement is part of UK legislation and as a financial services company we are legally obliged to collect it. We are asking for your tax residency and tax identification numbers (where applicable) and will record this on our records, but will only disclose this information to the relevant tax authorities if and when we are required to under UK law.

Your tax residence is generally the country in which you live for more than half a year. Special circumstances (such as studying abroad, working overseas, or extended travel) may cause you to be resident elsewhere or resident in more than one country at the same time (dual residency). The country/countries in which you pay income tax are likely to be your country/countries of tax residence. If you are a US citizen or hold a US passport or green card, you will also be considered tax resident in the US even if you live outside the US. If you have any questions on how to complete this form we recommend that you speak to your tax or legal adviser.

Section 9: How we use the information you provide on this application form

The information we collect about you and your organisation is used for different reasons. This includes managing your accounts, providing our products and services to you, and meeting our legal and regulatory obligations.

In accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation we are required to check your identity and any connected individuals (e.g Directors, Shareholders, Trustees, and Beneficiaries) before you open an account with the Society. We use an electronic verification system to do this. In certain cases we will need further proof of your, or any connected individual's, identity before we can open the account, please refer to our leaflet 'Proving Your Identity' for further details. All documents you provide will be recorded and copied for audit purposes as part of our anti money laundering requirements.

You will need to ensure that anyone affected by any of these requirements is made aware of and agrees to this.

For further details on how your personal information is used and how we maintain the security of your personal information, please refer to our Privacy Policy at mhbs.co.uk/privacy-policy/ or contact the Society's Data Protection Officer, at dpo@mhbs.co.uk or by calling 01858 412412.
