

Press Release

BEP Systems appointed by Market Harborough Building Society

BEP Systems, the mortgage origination software house, is to provide Market Harborough Building Society with customer lending solutions for mortgage origination based around its market-leading Apprivo2 platform.

The system will streamline processes for the Society including where customers earn in multiple currencies, have complex incomes or live abroad. The Apprivo2 platform will support complex affordability models and provide the ability to leverage multiple third party data sources, whilst enhancing the customer experience and the underwriting process through its series of case management and risk assessment hubs.

Market Harborough Building Society offers a range of mortgages for customers with bespoke and specialist needs, and the new system will enhance their offering while at the same time making applications more efficient to process. BEP's customisable Apprivo2 system will be developed to provide the required services and internal back office interfaces removing re-keying for brokers and the Society.

BEP Systems has a successful track record in providing expert services to a variety of lenders including Gatehouse Bank, Lendco and Landbay but this is their first building society client. BEP are growing their Manchester base and will soon be moving to new, larger offices.

Mark Robinson, CEO of Market Harborough commented: "We were very impressed with BEP Systems and their powerful, customisable Apprivo2 platform. The new system will help us further improve our service experience for demanding customers and brokers with complex needs. It represents a step change into the future and keeps us at the forefront of our market place."

Chris Little, managing director of BEP Systems, said: "I'm delighted that BEP have been appointed by Market Harborough Building Society to deliver an improved system to handle intricate solutions for their customers. Apprivo2 will help them provide a variety of finance facilities to their customers much more efficiently.

"Apprivo2 is the fastest growing system in the UK serving specialist finance providers. As well as mortgage origination it can handle bridging, commercial, second charges and buy to let finance as well as online customer and broker portals for lenders and their customers."
